IMPORTANT RULING ON BASEBALL LAW

Some weeks ago in this city, in a ball game between the Portland and Los Angeles teams, there were runners on first and third base, and two men were out. The man on first base started to steal to second, and was finally run down and touched out, but not before the man at third base had scored. The run was rung up by the scorer, but the opposing players pulled out their disgust, and the score boy refused to count the run on the scoreboard.

The winning team, which made the "extra" run, did not need it, but it was a legal one just the same. For the information of the players and fans alike, the rule covering the point is as follows:

"Rule 59—One run shall be scored every time a base runner, after having legally touched the first three bases, shall legally touch the home base before three men are out; provided, however, that if he reach home on or during a play in which the third man be forced out or be put out before reaching first base, a run shall not count. A force-out can be made only when a base runner legally loses the right to the base he occupies and is thereby obliged to advance as the result of a fair hit ball not caught on the fly."

Thus it will be seen that if a runner scores from third base before a man is touched out, who is being run down between the bases, for the third out, the run counts. The run, of course, would not count where the third out is made in a double play.

NOTICE

If secretaries or accredited representatives of athletic clubs and kindred organizations will make it a point to send a list of their proposed events to the Sporting Editor of the Bulletin, it will simplify matters greatly and will insure all legitimate sports news being made public. Where a representative of the Bulletin has not been seen at a game or other sports event, some representative of the organization or club conducting the event should communicate with the Bulletin, that there may be a full account and score published. Address communications to The Sporting Editor, Evening Bulletin.

FIGHTERS DEMAND SOME STUPENDOUS PURSE

Lecuri is busily engaged in trying to locate a pair of mitt slingers who would satisfy the public and who would be able to bring a little mazuma into the till. He has been working every possible angle to clinch a match between the top-notchers, but they all had an idea that the produce merchant had the bank of Italy behind him which it came to asking for guarantees. To satisfy these pugs the fight manager would have to get a $10,000 house simply to pay the fighters, and what came in above that sum would defray the expenses of pulling off the bout. Good business—for the fighter.—S. F. Bulletin.

DICK HYLAND IS AFTER CLASSY LADS

Dick Hyland, the California lightweight, who has been having much success in the East of late, is en route to San Francisco and should drop off the train at almost any time. If Promoter Lecuri fails to get the Sam Langford-Jim Flynn match, he will do his best to get Hyland against a classy boy of his weight, such as Johnny Payne or Cyclone Thompson. Hyland is an aggressive scrapper and has a big following and, with a good opponent, should be able to draw quite a crowd to the Coliseum.—S. F. Bulletin.

THE SEASON'S TURF KINGS

The Approach of Winter Sees a Long List of Fast Money Getters

NEW YORK, N. Y., Oct. 12.—The places of the big winners of the turf for the season of 1938 are fixed, and there is no chance of any shift in the positions of the leaders. The James R. Keene stable will wind up the season's racing and go into winter quarters with the Belmont Park closing. The Keene establishment will retire with three unbeaten horses, each holding the fame of great achievements, untarnished by defeat through the year with Colts, unbeaten two years on the turf, winner of fifteen races and $181,172 in that period, at the head of the list.

John E. Madden has already retired for the season the champion 2-year-old Sir Martin, winner of eight out of thirteen races and second four times, with a total of $75,395 to his credit. Sir Martin, the biggest winner of the year, is scheduled to depart for England, where he is engaged in the Derby, St. Leger and other classic races of 1939.

The leading winners for 1938 and their records follow:

Colt, 2-year-old, J. E. Madden's Sir Martin, eight races, $75,395.
Filly, 2-year-old, J. R. Keene's Maskette, five races, $52,850.
Colt, 3-year-old, August Belmont's Fair Play, seven races, $69,510.
Filly, 3-year-old, H. P. Whitney's Stamina, four races, $18,680.

Colt, 4-year-old, J. R. Keene's Hal-lot, five races, $55,915.

Unbeaten horses in 1938:

J. R. Keene's Collin, 3-year-old, three races, $50,165.

J. R. Keene's Colt, 3-year-old, two races, $22,799.

August Belmont's Pricillian, 3-year-old, seven races, $18,810.

While mowing in a field near his home Charles Pittman, of Darlington, S. C., uncovered a nest of yellow bumble bees and was stung forty-six times.

STEAMER CHINA REACHES PORT

The Pacific Mail liner China, Captain Friele in command, tied up at the Naval wharf at 8 o'clock this morning. On board were, among other passengers, Mrs. E. S. Cunha, Father Ulrich, who returns to his work here; Misses B. and M. Campbell; George Filmer, illustrious Pontefice of Islam Temple, A. A. O. N. M. S., of San Francisco, and Dr. V. A. Norgaard, Territorial Veterinarian, as well as Mike Fisher and his Reach Club All-American baseball aggregation.

The trip from San Francisco was without incident, though heavy seas made the journey rather slow. The ship did not strike the hurricane which delayed the U. S. S. Charleston, but the heavy seas encountered were probably the aftermath of the storm.

The China brought mail and freight for this port and as soon as the ship was made fast to the wharf unloading of the cargo was begun. Coal was taken on board for the journey from here to the Orient, the work of coaling being started as soon as the vessel tied up to the wharf.

The China will continue on her way at 3 o'clock this afternoon.

WEEKLY WEATHER BULLETIN

HONOLULU, Nov. 9, 1938.

GENERAL SUMMARY

Lower mean temperatures than during the preceding week were reported from all stations on Oahu and Molokai and generally from Maui and Kauai, with changes generally between 1.2° and 3.3°. On Hawaii the mean temperatures were generally slightly higher, the greatest changes occurring in the Kona, northern Kau and the southern portions of the Puna and Hamakua districts, and ranged from 1.1° to 2.4°.

The rainfall was light and below the average at all stations in the section. The deficiencies, in inches, as compared with the average of ten or more years, in the several districts were: Hawaii—Kohala 0.52 to 0.76, Hamakua 0.48 to 1.24, Hilo 0.07 to 1.77, Puna 0.73, Kau 1.04 to 1.52, Kona 0.73; Maui—Hamakua 0.94; Oahu 0.63 to 0.95; and Kauai—Waimea 0.58 and Kona and Koolau 1.24 to 1.29.

The greatest amounts of rainfall were reported from the Koolau and Hamakua districts of Maui, and the Hilo and northern portion of the Puna districts of Hawaii, and ranged from 1.14 to 3.83 inches. The total amounts for the week, in inches, in the several districts were: Hawaii—Kohala 0.35 to 0.61, Hamakua 0.00 to 0.93, Hilo 1.14 to 3.02, Puna 0.27 to 1.23, Kau 0.00 to 0.62, and Kona 0.37 to 0.90; Maui—Koolau 1.87 to 3.83, Hamakua 0.83, Hamakua 1.50, and Wailuku 0.03 to 0.33; Oahu—Koolau 0.00 to 0.92, Honolulu 0.06, Ewa 0.02 to 0.41, and Waianae 0.00; Kauai—Koolau 0.56, Kona 0.25, Puna 0.00 to 0.17, and Waimea 0.00; and Molokai 0.09.

There was less rainfall than during the preceding week at all stations on Kauai, and at one half of the stations on Hawaii. There was more rain than during the previous week at the majority of stations on Oahu and Maui. The differences in the several districts were: Hawaii—0.20 to 0.15, Hamakua—0.70 to 0.85, Hilo—1.45 to 1.59, Puna—0.67 to 1.57, Kau—0.15 to 0.32, and Kona—0.30 to 0.32; Maui—Koolau—0.80 to 1.08, Hamakua—0.12, Hamakua 0.58, and Wailuku—0.03 to 0.37; Oahu—Koolau 0.28 to 0.58, and the remaining districts 0.00 to 0.07; Kauai—Koolau, Puna and Kona—1.21 to 1.35, and Waimea—0.34 and 0.35; and Molokai 0.04.

The following table shows the weekly averages of temperature and rainfall for the principal islands and for the group:

	TEMPERATURE	RAINFALL
Hawaii	71.8°	1.03 inches.
Maui	72.0°	1.20 inches.
